Speaker Profile

Fatima has a postgraduate degree in Psychology and has been worked in the mental health sector for over 10 years. Her passion is working within communities, raising mental health awareness and creating programmes to help people understand mental health better. Currently, she is the development manager at SADAG contributing to innovative ways to create more resources for people that are seeking mental health, help raise awareness on mental health, and also helps with fundraising and managing SADAG’s rural container counselling project.